

The FCC should NOT implement any proposal that would LESSEN Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections or similar laws in other states. Any FCC proposal should only provide minimum non-exclusive regulations and allow states to impose more restrictive regulations that provide greater protection from unwanted telemarketing.